

NCL Graphic Specialties, Inc. Announces FDA Recognition Status

September 14, 2010 – NCL Graphic Specialties, Inc. is now registered as an FDA recognized site, as a re-packer/packer of food items.

Under the Bioterrorism Act of 2002—which is a food safety/security measure adopted after 9/11—all manufacturers of food items must be registered. Its intent is to provide facility and contact information to the FDA in case of bioterrorism attacks on the food chain, and also establishes guidelines for product traceability and record retention.

Established nearly 50 years ago, NCL is a supplier to some of the largest consumer product goods and promotional entities in the country. The company produces cut and stack paper labels, in-pack, on-pack and near-pack marketing items, games, sweepstakes, overwrap coupons and specialized promotional materials. NCL also provides promotional game security, game administration, warehousing, and shipping.
